We acknowledge that we live, work, and create art on the traditional lands of the Tsalagi peoples (now the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, Cherokee Nation of Oklahoma, and the United Keetoowah Band of Cherokee Indians) and the Tsoyaha peoples (Yuchi and Muscogee Creek).

We are indebted to these indigenous peoples for their stewardship, both past and present, of this beautiful land.

We recognize and value diversity in all forms, including age, ethnicity, family structure, gender identity, national origin, race religion, spirituality, sexual orientation, socioeconomic background, and veteran status.

We believe inclusivity and diversity in our workplace should reflect the increasing multicultural and global society in which we live. We seek to foster excellent creative research, scholarship and professional practice by creating a welcoming environment, ethical recruitment practices, and a diverse student body who will have lives of awareness and understanding through their creative research, teaching, practicing and advocating for others in a diverse world.

ABOUT THE PLAYWRIGHT

ERIC COBLE was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, and raised on the Navajo and Ute reservations in New Mexico and Colorado. His scripts for adults have been produced on Broadway (Tony- and Pulitzer-nominated The Velocity of Autumn), off-Broadway (Bright Ideas), in all 50 states of the U.S., and on several continents. His plays for young audiences include award-winning adaptations of Lois Lowry's The Giver and Gathering Blue as well as The Girl Who Swallowed a Cactus, Sherlock Holmes: The Baker Street Irregulars, Ghosts in the Machine, Swagger, Cinderella Confidential and a dozen other published scripts that have been produced at The Kennedy Center, Dallas Children's Theatre, Childsplay, Metro Theatre Company, Oregon Children's Theatre, First Stage, Denver Center for the Performing Arts, Cleveland Play House, Adventure Stage, Alliance Theatre and many others.

Awards include two AATE Distinguished Play Awards for Best Adaptation and the Charlotte Chorpenning Award for the body of work of a children's playwright.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

LOIS LOWRY is the highly acclaimed author of more than 30 books for young people. Over the years, she has received numerous awards, including two Newbery Medals. Lowry has written such a wide range of books that her body of work cannot be categorized easily. Her genres range from contemporary fiction to historical fiction to fantasy to autobiographical. Her audiences range from elementary school children all the way up to young adults. Some of Lowry's books are light-hearted, but others deal with serious and somber topics. Lois Lowry's first children's book, A Summer to Die, was published in 1977. In 1979 Lowry finished Anastasia Krupnik, the story of a quirky 10-year-old girl who wants to become a writer. During the 1980s, Anastasia reappeared in numerous books. In 1990 Lowry's novel, Number the Stars, received the prestigious Newbery Medal. Four years later, Lowry won a second Newbery Medal for her most well-known book, The Giver. More recently, Lois Lowry has been writing a lighthearted series for younger readers about a spirited second-grade girl named Gooney Bird Greene.

FROM THE DIRECTOR

Part of the extreme pleasure I gain from directing plays is the challenge of crafting a production that resonates with an audience in two ways. The first being that the audience has a rich emotional experience in real time. Second, that said experience continues to echo in thought long after the final bow. The Giver by Eric Coble (adapted from the novel by Lois Lowry) was particularly challenging in moving towards these goals. How does one turn a well known story that is dependent on the thoughts and feelings of its characters into palpable action? In a fictional society that is reliant on tepid interpretations of horrific realities, what are the ways in which the actors can lean in to a visual give and take rather than verbal communication? The solution came to me in the form of American Sign Language...

American Sign Language (ASL) lives with the misconception that signs are philosophically self explanatory, that they are a crystalline reflection of what they mean. In many cases this is true because the medium of ASL is three-dimensional space and naturally allows more iconicity than oral language. But, in many instances (just as in spoken language) mapping between form and meaning can become completely arbitrary. Further, children do not always take advantage of the iconic properties of signs when they interpret their meaning. The sign we are using for “release” means “to let go”, however, in the context of The Giver the same sign means (at its root) “to euthanize”. We strove as a group to create a community that uses language in the form of both ASL (Visual) and Oral communication (Auditory) in order to cloud the true outcome of particular actions while simultaneously utilizing precise language. This led to the realization of a community and culture whose very existence is threatened day to day and yet the threat is not packaged in a way that correctly highlights the danger for what it is. We can find these examples in our current use of words such as Internment, Gentrification, War... This truth is applicable to non-threats, as well. We use words such as Equality and Freedom as if they have been achieved for all, constantly lulling ourselves in to the belief that we have reached these goals. And yet, we live in a society where we profess these very things! Terrifying, isn't it?

As you take the ride that is The Giver with us, I hope you will find excitement in watching Jonas “see beyond” with more and more clarity through the course of the play. And, when he transcends, I hope you will collectively breathe a sigh of relief not only because our young protagonist completes his Hero’s Journey but because you now feel empowered to begin a journey of your own...

“I had a dream, a pleasant scene, where none were dunced and none were crowned. All there knew just who they were spoke with their eyes and sang out loud.” (Flowers from Fromb, Superunloader)

TOM CERVONE

(Managing Director) Tom is grateful and honored to serve the Clarence Brown Theatre as Managing Director. Cervone has also served as executive director for both Dogwood Arts and the Historic Tennessee

Theatre Foundation, but the CBT/UTK Theatre Department is Tom's administrative and artistic home. Cervone arrived in Knoxville in 1989 as an MFA candidate in acting and was hired in May of 1993 as the company manager, then promoted to managing director in 1995. And for his brief foray downtown, Tom has been in this chair, blissfully, ever since. Tom is and has been very active within the UTK community, having served as Exempt Staff Council chair for many years, co-chair of the LGBT Commission, a member of the Diversity Council and many other UTK organizations. Cervone is a long-time board member of the WordPlayers and continues to evangelize on behalf of the art and culture community locally and nationally. Tom received the Chancellor's Citation for Outstanding Service to the University in 2010. Cervone holds his undergraduate degree in Speech and English Education with an emphasis in Theatre from West Liberty University in West Virginia and a Master of Fine Arts and an MBA from UT. He is a graduate of and was selected as the Class Representative of the Leadership Knoxville class of 2011, the best class ever. ## ROTARY INSPIRING THE WORLD

Come and visit a Rotary Club of Knoxville meeting. We meet every Tuesday at noon at the Crowne Plaza Hotel, where we hear great speakers and enjoy social networking and camaraderie. Founded in 1915, we are Knoxville's oldest and largest service club, with around 150 members and always looking for more. The club is apolitical and secular, welcoming members from all communities. Each year our club:

Awards $20,000 college scholarships

Recognizes two Knox County teachers with $500 awards and $250 gift certificates

Supports End Polio Now, Rotary International's signature project

Sustains clean water projects in 115 villages in Thailand

CBT WAYS TO GIVE

Looking for a way to support the CBT? Whether online, by mail, over the phone, or carrier pigeon (just kidding on that last one, unless you can make it work!), the impact is the same, helping support the Clarence Brown Theatre into the next 50 years of professional theatre. A complete list of CBT's established scholarships, endowments, and general funds are listed below.

ONLINE { clarencebrowntheatre.com/donate-now

MAIL { Checks, made payable to University of Tennessee, can be mailed to: { Clarence Brown Theatre
Attn: Development
206 McClung Tower
Knoxville, TN 37996

(Unless otherwise stated, donations received via mail will go towards our general Theatre Enrichment Fund.)

PHONE { Provide your credit card information via phone by calling our Development liaison at (865) 974-5654.

CORPORATE, FOUNDATION & GRANT PROFILES

Headquartered in Knoxville, Tenn., Pilot Company's mission is to make life better for America's drivers. With more than 650 locations nationwide, Pilot Company is the largest retail operator of travel centers in North America. At Pilot Company we believe it is essential to give back to the community. Our founder, Mr. James A. Haslam II, established our philanthropic spirit when he started the company in 1958. Our employees all take part in giving their time, talents and efforts to various organizations throughout the year. Together we work to make our communities better places to work, play and live. Visit www.pilotflyingj.com for more information.

CITY OF KNOXVILLE

City of Knoxville - Knoxville's roots run deep and strong.

The city has served as the hub of the region since its founding in 1791. The best of its Appalachian heritage remains today — a strong work ethic, a family-centered community, and an intense respect for the natural beauty that envelopes the region. The metropolitan Knoxville area was ranked the "best place to live in the United States and Canada" among cities with a population of fewer than 1 million. The ranking came from the Millennium edition of Places Rated Almanac. The results confirmed what most in this area have known for a long time - Knoxville is one of the best cities in the country!

Knox County
Tourism Consortium

The Clarence Brown Theatre is a proud member of the Arts & Culture Alliance's Knox County Tourism Consortium, joining with 24 arts and culture organizations who deliver more than 4,000 tourism geared events and activities. The visitors the consortium attracts to Knox County bring millions of dollars into the county as they patronize local restaurants, shops, vendors, and hotels. Pre-pandemic, the consortium attracted visitors from all fifty states and international visitors from more than 80 countries to Knox County, bringing nearly $18 million into the county with them. Visitors from surrounding East Tennessee counties have added more than $16 million. The consortium supports $12 million in jobs and pays $18 million more to local vendors.

Knox County is a county in the U.S. state of Tennessee. As of the 2010 census, the population is 432,226. Its county seat and largest city is Knoxville. The county is at the geographical center of the Great Valley of East Tennessee. Near the heart of the county is the origin of the Tennessee River at the union of the Holston and French Broad Rivers. Knox County was created on June 11, 1792 by Governor William Blount from parts of Greene and Hawkins counties, and has the distinction of being one of only eight counties created during territorial administration. It is one of nine United States counties named for American Revolutionary War general and first United States Secretary of War Henry Knox. Parts of Knox County later became Blount (1795), Anderson (1801), Roane (1801), and Union (1850) counties.

CORPORATE, FOUNDATION & GRANT PROFILES

The Department of the Treasury is the executive agency responsible for promoting economic prosperity and ensuring the financial security of the United States. The Department is responsible for a wide range of activities such as advising the President on economic and financial issues, encouraging sustainable economic growth, and fostering improved governance in financial institutions. The Department of the Treasury operates and maintains systems that are critical to the nation's financial infrastructure, such as the production of coin and currency, the disbursement of payments to the American public, revenue collection, and the borrowing of funds necessary to run the federal government. The Department works with other federal agencies, foreign governments, and international financial institutions to encourage global economic growth, raise standards of living, and to the extent possible, predict and prevent economic and financial crises. The Treasury Department also performs a critical and far-reaching role in enhancing national security by implementing economic sanctions against foreign threats to the U.S., identifying and targeting the financial support networks of national security threats, and improving the safeguards of our financial systems.

The Mildred Haines and William Elijah Morris Lecture Endowment supports campus visits of lecturers and scholars in all disciplines in the College of Arts and Sciences. The dean of the college solicits proposals from departments and academic programs for the use of the funds, appoints an advisory committee to review and make recommendations regarding the proposals, and makes awards to the successful proposals. The advisory committee has a representative from the humanities, the social sciences, the natural sciences and the arts faculties of the college. The committee selects a chairperson from among its members. Committee members serve two-year terms and may be reappointed at the discretion of the dean.

The Shubert Foundation, Inc., was established in 1945 by Lee and J.J. Shubert, in memory of their brother Sam and is dedicated to sustaining and advancing the live performing arts in the United States, with a particular emphasis on theatre and a secondary focus on dance. They are the nation's largest funder dedicated to unrestricted funding of not-for-profit theatres, dance companies, professional theatre training programs and related service agencies. The Shubert Foundation is especially interested in providing support to professional resident theatre and dance companies that develop and produce new American work.

The Tennessee Arts Commission, was created in 1967 by the Tennessee General Assembly with the special mandate to stimulate and encourage the presentation of the visual, literary, music and performing arts and to encourage public interest in the cultural heritage of Tennessee. TN Arts Commission Governing Policies can be found here. The mission of the Tennessee Arts Commission is to cultivate the arts for the benefit of all Tennesseans and their communities. Our vision is a Tennessee where the arts inspire, connect and enhance everyday lives. The Commission is supported by in part by the National Endowment for the Arts.
